SOLEMN MASS &
PROCESSION TO THE CRÈCHE

Sunday, December 25, 2022, 11:00 AM

The Church of Saint Mary the Virgin in the City of New York

Merry Christmas

Christians began celebrating the birth of Jesus on December 25 near the beginning of the fourth century. By the beginning of the fifth century, a midnight celebration on Christmas Eve was held in Rome. This came to be celebrated throughout Western Europe. Christmas Masses soon became among the most beloved services of the year for Christians. Matthew and Luke both record the story of Christ's birth. John's gospel begins with a proclamation on the meaning of the story. The mystery of God becoming Human in Christ is a fundamental Christian belief, and so at Saint Mary's we retain the tradition at the Christmas Masses of kneeling, or bowing, by all who are able, during the Nicene Creed as we say, "by the power of the Holy Spirit he became incarnate from the Virgin Mary, and was made man."

About Saint Mary's

Saint Mary's was founded in 1868 to be the Episcopal parish church for the new residential neighborhood, then called Longacre Square, here in midtown Manhattan. Our doors have been open daily for welcome and worship since December 8, 1870. Many visitors discover us for the first time every day of the week. All are welcome. Our members and friends now live both near and far from Times Square. We invite you to join us.

About the Music

The organ prelude this morning is from the miscellaneous chorales of Johann Sebastian Bach (1685–1750). In dulci jubilo, BWV 729, is based upon the traditional Christmas carol known to English-speaking carolers as Good Christian men rejoice. In this short piece, Bach separates phrases of the carol melody stated in block harmony with free fantasia passages, which sound very much like they might have been improvised. It is likely that this chorale prelude models a common performance practice of that time for organists to lead chorales for congregational singing. The organ postlude today will be improvised.

The setting of the Mass is Missa O magnum mysterium by Tomás Luís de Victoria (1548–1611). Victoria, considered the most important Spanish composer of Renaissance polyphony, was born in Ávila, the seventh of eleven children. He began his musical education as a choirboy at that city's cathedral and his classical education at San Gil, a Jesuit school for boys founded in 1554. By 1565 Victoria had entered the Jesuit Collegio Germanico in Rome, where he was later engaged to teach music and eventually named maestro di cappella. Victoria knew and may have been instructed by Palestrina (1525–1594) who was maestro di cappella of the nearby Seminario Romano at that time. During his years in Rome, Victoria held several positions as singer, organist, and choral master, and he published many of his compositions. He was ordained priest in 1575 after a three-day diaconate. There are twenty authenticated Mass settings of Victoria. The Missa O magnum mysterium, dated 1592, is one of fifteen of Victoria in the style of Missa parodia. In this case, Victoria parodies his own motet of the same title which had been composed twenty years earlier in 1572. Victoria's manner of parody normally resists the usual practice of beginning each Mass movement with clear melodic references to the earlier composition being parodied. Rather, he skillfully selects his borrowed themes and applies them where they best serve their new texts. Missa O magnum mysterium is in four voices until the Agnus Dei in which an additional soprano voice is included to sing in canon with the original part.

The Communion motet this morning is by David Hurd, organist and music director at Saint Mary's. Every December since 1983, he has sent out the score of a newly composed piece of music as a Christmas greeting. His 2014 Christmas card composition was a setting of a portion of the prologue of the Gospel according to Saint John. The beginning of the fourth Gospel is often quoted or read during the Christmas season, and the Prayer Book lectionary prescribes it as the Gospel proclamation for the third Mass of Christmas as well as the first Sunday after Christmas. The motet sung this morning begins quietly with all voices on a unison middle-C and proceeds into a four-voice texture. In a gradually gathering crescendo and upward thrust, the motet moves from its initial gentle unison middle-C to a strong seven-voice conclusion in the key of E. — David Hurd

Moonless darkness stands between

by Gerard Manley Hopkins (1844–1889)

Moonless darkness stands between.
Past, the Past, no more be seen!
But the Bethlehem-star may lead me
To the sight of Him Who freed me
From the self that I have been.
Make me pure, Lord: Thou art holy;
Make me meek, Lord: Thou wert lowly;
Now beginning, and always:
Now begin, on Christmas day.

THE WORD OF GOD

The Lessons

All are seated for the Lessons. The first Lesson, Isaiah 52:7–10, is now read.

How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings good tidings, who publishes peace, who brings good tidings of good, who publishes salvation, who says to Zion, “Your God reigns.” Hark, your watchmen lift up their voice, together they sing for joy; for eye to eye they see the return of the LORD to Zion. Break forth together into singing, you waste places of Jerusalem; for the LORD has comforted his people, he has redeemed Jerusalem. The LORD has bared his holy arm before the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

After the Lesson, the Reader says

 The Word of the Lord.
People Thanks be to God.

Psalm 98:1–6

The Congregation remains seated. The Cantor sings the Refrain and the Congregation repeats it. Then the Choir sings the psalm verses to Anglican chant by Sydney Nicholson (1875–1947) and the Congregation sings the Refrain.

All the ends of the earth have seen the vic-to-ry of our God.

- 1 Sing to the LORD a new song, *
for he has done marvelous things.
- 2 With his right hand and his holy arm *
has he won for himself the victory. Refrain
- 3 The LORD has made known his victory; *
his righteousness has he openly shown in the sight of the nations.
- 4 He remembers his mercy and faithfulness
to the house of Israel, *
and all the ends of the earth have seen
the victory of our God. Refrain
- 5 Shout with joy to the LORD, all you lands; *
lift up your voice, rejoice, and sing.
- 6 Sing to the LORD with the harp, *
with the harp and the voice of song. Refrain

The second Lesson, Hebrews 1:1–12, is now sung.

In many and various ways God spoke of old to our fathers by the prophets; but in these last days he has spoken to us by a Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world. He reflects the glory of God and bears the very stamp of his nature, upholding the universe by his word of power. When he had made purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high, having become as much superior to angels as the name he has obtained is more excellent than theirs. For to what angel did God ever say, “Thou art my Son, today I have begotten thee”? Or again, “I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son”? And again, when he brings the first-born into the world, he says, “Let all God’s angels worship him.” Of the angels he says, “Who makes his angels winds, and his servants flames of fire.” But of the Son he says, “Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever, the righteous scepter is the scepter of thy kingdom. Thou hast loved righteousness and hated lawlessness; therefore God, thy God, has anointed thee with the oil of gladness beyond thy comrades.” And, “Thou, Lord, didst found the earth in the beginning, and the heavens are the work of thy hands; they will perish, but thou remainest; they will all grow old like a garment, like a mantle thou wilt roll them up, and they will be changed. But thou art the same, and thy years will never end.”

After the Lesson, the Reader sings

The Word of the Lord.

People

Thanks be to God.

The Holy Gospel

All stand. The ministers of the assembly prepare for the Gospel while the appointed antiphon is sung.

Alleluia, alleluia.

Dies sanctificatus illuxit nobis:

venite gentes, et adorete Dominum:

quia hodie descendit

lux magna super terram.

Alleluia.

Alleluia, alleluia.

A holy day has dawned upon us.

Come, all you nations, and worship the Lord.

For today a great light

has descended upon the earth.

Alleluia.

A Minister proclaims the Gospel, first singing

People The Lord be with you.
 And also with you.
Minister ✠ The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ
 according to John.

People Glo-ry to you, Lord Christ.

The appointed Gospel, John 1:1–14, is now proclaimed.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God; all things were made through him, and without him was not anything made that was made. In him was life, and the life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it. There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. He came for testimony, to bear witness to the light, that all might believe through him. He was not the light, but came to bear witness to the light. The true light that enlightens every man was coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made through him, yet the world knew him not. He came to his own home, and his own people received him not. But to all who received him, who believed in his name, he gave power to become children of God; who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God. And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth; we have beheld his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father.

After the Gospel, the Minister sings

People Praise to you, Lord Christ.

People And al - so with you.

Celebrant Lift up your hearts.

Celebrant Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

People It is right to give him thanks and praise.

Celebrant It is right, and a good and joyful thing, always and everywhere to give thanks to you, Father Almighty, Creator of heaven and earth; because you gave Jesus Christ, your only Son, to be born for us; who, by the mighty power of the Holy Spirit, was made perfect Man of the flesh of the Virgin Mary his mother; so that we might be delivered from the bondage of sin, and receive power to become your children. Therefore we praise you, joining our voices with Angels and Archangels and with all the company of heaven, who for ever sing this hymn to proclaim the glory of your Name:

The Choir sings Sanctus and Benedictus. The setting is by Tomás Luis de Victoria.

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus,
Dominus Deus Sabaoth.
Hosanna in excelsis.
Benedictus qui venit
in nomine Domini.
Hosanna in excelsis.

*Holy, holy, holy Lord,
God of power and might,
Hosanna in the highest.
Blessed is he who comes
in the name of the Lord.
Hosanna in the highest.*

The People stand or kneel. Then the Celebrant continues

We give thanks to you, O God, for the goodness and love which you have made known to us in creation; in the calling of Israel to be your people; in your Word spoken through the prophets; and above all in the Word made flesh, Jesus, your Son. For in these last days you sent him to be incarnate from the Virgin Mary, to be the Savior and Redeemer of the world. In him, you have delivered us from evil, and made us worthy to stand before you. In him, you have brought us out of error into truth, out of sin into righteousness, out of death into life.

On the night before he died for us, our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to you, he broke it, and gave it to his disciples, and said, "Take, eat: This is my Body, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me."

After supper he took the cup of wine; and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you: This is my Blood of the new Covenant, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink it, do this for the remembrance of me."

Therefore, according to his command, O Father,

The Celebrant and the People sing

We re-mem-ber his death, We pro-claim his res-ur-rec-tion,

We a-wait his com-ing in glo-ry.

The Celebrant continues

And we offer our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving to you, O Lord of all; presenting to you, from your creation, this bread and this wine.

We pray you, gracious God, to send your Holy Spirit upon these gifts that they may be the Sacrament of the Body of Christ and his Blood of the new Covenant. Unite us to your Son in his sacrifice, that we may be acceptable through him, being sanctified by the Holy Spirit. In the fullness of time, put all things in subjection under your Christ, and bring us to that heavenly country where, with Mary, the Virgin Mother of God, and all your saints, we may enter the everlasting heritage of your sons and daughters; through Jesus Christ our Lord, the firstborn of all creation, the head of the Church, and the author of our salvation.

By him, and with him, and in him, in the unity of the Holy Spirit all honor and glory is yours, Almighty Father, now and for ever.
